

“Singapore should have a fashion council to suss out budding designers and support them by organising such shows... I would be keen to see how far Singaporean designers can go!”

— Karen Ng, power stylist