

ALL SET FOR F1

Eric Banks and Linda Ruck

GH Mumm, the official champagne for Formula 1, hosted the first F1 party of the season and threw a grand '50s-themed affair at the National Museum of Singapore. At the party, GH Mumm announced its appointment of one of Asia's most sought-after stylist, Karen Ng, as its new style ambassador. Several guests came dressed in their vintage best, such as Marilyn Monroe-inspired white tulle dresses, dashing tweed suits and glamorous vintage gowns reminiscent of Old World glamour. Guests were also treated to an exhibition of iconic vintage vehicles courtesy of the Malaysia and Singapore Vintage Car Register and another exhibition of valuable vintage GH Mumm memorabilia dating before the 1950s, which were specially flown in by the House of GH Mumm in France.
