

STAR STYLE

The year's biggest fashion event saw the best style-setting personalities take to the media spotlight in glamorous high fashion style.

The Audi Fashion Festival was the perfect moment for fashionistas to shine forth in their couture best as the media swooped to judge the best and worst dressed personalities at the event. And not only did she rise to the occasion on her long slender legs, but Georgia Lee also proved that she had the canniest and most perceptive take on current trends with her stylish mix and match ensembles. From her slinky Cavalli gown to the metal studded punk rock / mini dress outfit, Georgia stood out easily from the rest of the fashion pack with looks that were consistently cool and chic. What made her top our best-dressed list? The easy glamour she exuded with sleek, fuss-free hairstyles and pared down makeup that contrasted beautifully with her haute fashions.

Stylist Karen Ng also made an impact with her playful fashion mixes that stayed true to the Rock Girl persona she adopted during the week long event. Whether it was a tasseled cocktail dress or a white shirt and feathered skirt combo, Karen played it hard and cool with ankle high strappy heels and boots, loading up on bangles and bracelets for more bite and edge. What won us over? The sparkling glam factor in every look.

And here's a preview of some of our top best dressed picks at the festival.
